

Ibrahim (Bryan) Konaté, MPH '20

Bryan received his MPH in Epidemiology with a certificate in Comparative Effectiveness Outcomes Research from the Health Policy and Management Department. He is currently a healthcare management professional and National Academy of State Health Policy Emerging Leaders of Color Fellow.

Since his start in public health, he has worked in clinical research, humanitarian advocacy, and community-based initiatives. Throughout these experiences, he has championed the inclusion of patient perspectives and is driven to ensure that equity is prioritized in all aspects of public health. He is a passionate advocate for chronic illness patients and is thrilled to bring his varied experiences to the board.

Bryan is humbled and honored to be selected to serve on the Columbia Mailman School of Public Health Alumni Board, and hopes to support the school as the program moves into its second century of public health leadership.
