

Bridget Moran MPH '15

Bridget brings more than 10 years of experience working in the healthcare, nonprofit, and education sectors. With a focus on business development, corporate reputation, and strategy, Bridget is skilled in research and insights, thought leadership, stakeholder engagement, measurement and reporting, and sales. She has a proven track record of leading engagements and successfully tying projects to broader business imperatives. Bridget is currently Vice President of Corporate Communications at SmithSolve, a life sciences communications agency. Prior to SmithSolve, Bridget was Global Director of Business Development at RxMx, a patient safety monitoring software company, where she led business development and shaped the strategy for the business. Bridget was also Vice President at Syneos Health, one of the world's largest clinical and commercial solutions providers for healthcare companies, and Senior Associate at Rabin Martin, a leading global health consulting firm. Bridget holds a BA and an M.Ed. from the University of California at Santa Barbara and an MPH in Health Policy and Management from Columbia University.